In any field there are habits that separate the good from the great and the field of Architecture is no different. So what are the attributes that make a great architect? We would love to hear from you to see if you agree and if you have other attributes you would like to add to our list.

What's in a Team?

A team is basically a group of people with complementary skills who are mutually committed to working together toward a common goal with shared rewards.

- Timeliness: No matter who the client is, if you delay, or over promise and under deliver, they will be more likely to find fault if your work is behind schedule.
- Creativity: Does your work stand out from the crowd?
- Vision: What are you bringing to your field that hasn't been seen before?
- People Skills: No matter how great your work is, if you can't communicate effectively it may fall on deaf ears.
- Attention to detail: This may seem to go without saying but the devil really is in the details.

Looking for a Few Good Firms

RVM Construction is an Orange County , CA General Contracting firm that specializes in the construction and remodeling of fine residential homes and quality commercial buildings. Over the last 35 years we have built a reputation and following mainly due to our values and commitment to delighting customers.

Our mission is to provide exceptional customer service while constructing exceptional-quality projects that meet budget and schedule goals. The true reflection of RVM Construction's success is that many of our customers are repeat clients. We establish business relationships based on trust, service and a track record of successful projects completed.

Clients choose RVM Construction because they value honesty, integrity, and a consistent quality of workmanship. Realtors and architects recommend RVM Construction because we are knowledgeable, reasonable, fair, and we understand and address client issues early and stay on top of the entire process.

Does this sound like you and your firm? If so, we would love to hear from you to set up a meeting to see how we can partner for success.
